

The Affordability Crisis

The job clusters align with the highest costs of living.

- Jiya: Lives near the downtown tech hub. High rent ($3,000+), but her salary absorbs it. She builds equity.
- Chris: Pushed to the periphery of Durham. Commuting is costly, and rent takes >50% of his stagnant income.

Geography becomes destiny.

